Statistical methods and inference for complex and large scale data

Abstract:
I will introduce framework for computationally restrictive statistical analysis. I will focus on usefulness of non-asymptotic analysis and linearization techniques for quantifying uncertainty of estimation in complex datasets.