

*Department of Mathematics,
University of California San Diego*

Math 288 - Probability & Statistics

Omer Tamuz

Caltech

Large Deviations in Social Learning

Abstract:

Models of information exchange that originate from economics provide interesting questions in probability. We will introduce some of these models, discuss open questions, and explain some recent results. Joint with Wade Hann-Caruthers, Matan Harel, Vadim Martynov, Elchanan Mossel and Philipp Strack

Tianyi Zheng

Thursday, October 19, 2017

10:00 AM

AP&M 6402
