

Figure III.10: A polygonal mesh defined by a parametric function. The horizontal and vertical curves are lines of constant y values and constant x values, respectively.