

Here is a portion of the Western United States. How many colors would we need to color this map so that no two bordering states have the same color?

