Suppose 1 in 1000 firecrackers manufactured at a factory are defective (independently). You buy 1000 firecrackers. What is the probability that none are defective?

- Determine this probability exactly.

- Approximate the probability using a Poisson random variable.